In my high school, students have a lot of fun with an un-birthday party. They randomly draw an artist's name from a "hat." They must look up this artist and read enough about him/her that they can come up with six items that would make good gifts for the artist. They wrap the six presents in a box that is constructed/painted in the artist's style.

If he needs some help framing out these ideas, GREAT! Little by little, we build from one sentence to two, from two sentences to a paragraph, from one paragraph to several, and so on. One day at a time, one page at a time, he builds this first notebook. He creates a cover page for the notebook. He begins adding other interesting tidbits — maybe a list of interesting facts and figures, a poem ...
