No other series of compounds exemplifies these attributes better than those sharing the formula $Zn_4O(L)_3$, where L is a rigid linear dicarboxylate. These materials have the same cubic topology as prototypical MOF-5, the framework generated when octahedral $Zn_4O(CO_2)_6$ clusters (the core of the basic zinc acetate structure) are linked along orthogonal axes by phenylene rings (see Fig. 2).

Life is a characteristic that distinguishes physical entities that have biological processes, such as signaling and self-sustaining processes, from those that do not, either because such functions have ceased (they have died), or because they never had such functions and are classified as inanimate. Various forms of life exist, such as plants, animals, fungi, protists, archaea, and bacteria.
